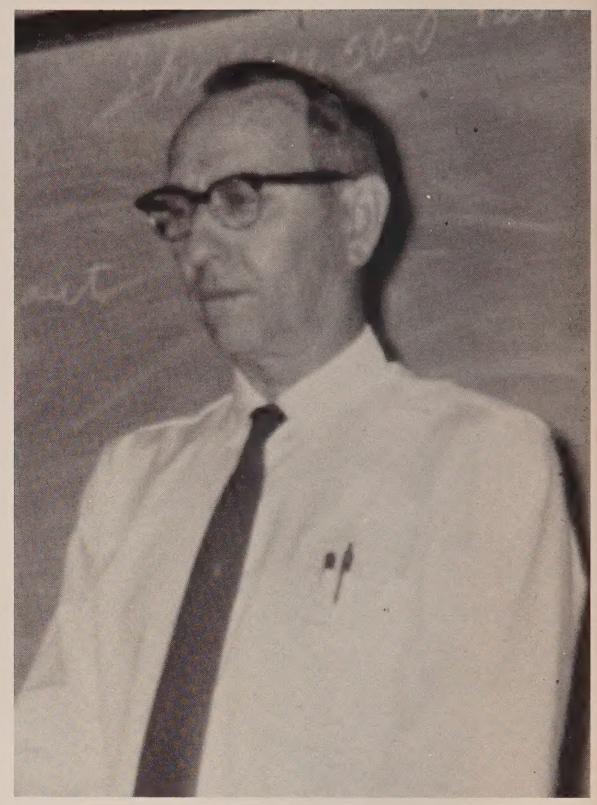
This We Dedicate . . .



Mr. Roche instructs his shorthand students.

We, the seniors, of 1968, so dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Irving Roche. We appreciate very much his service as a senior class sponsor. Mr. Roche has not only been a fine teacher, but has been an outstanding citizen in his community. Besides being a class sponsor, he teaches Shorthand, Typing I and II, and is sponsor of the "Jacket Sting," our school paper.

Seniors Capture Mr. and

I guess I'm about an average teen-ager (from Wausau??) if there is such a thing. I like the things most people do such as food, girls, sleep, food, girls, parties. I'm assistant youth Sunday school teacher and am proud of my church work. I hope to be a teacher or join the Peace Corps. I intend to volunteer for Viet Nam. My motto is "No Hurry, No Worry."

- Roger Dale Hagan

Linda Faye Cook

Miss V.H.S. Title

I enjoy the usual things a teenager does, the music, the clothes, and good fun. My hobby is cheering, and, when I have time from my duties as Student Council president and editor of the "Jackets' Sting," I enjoy working in ceramics.

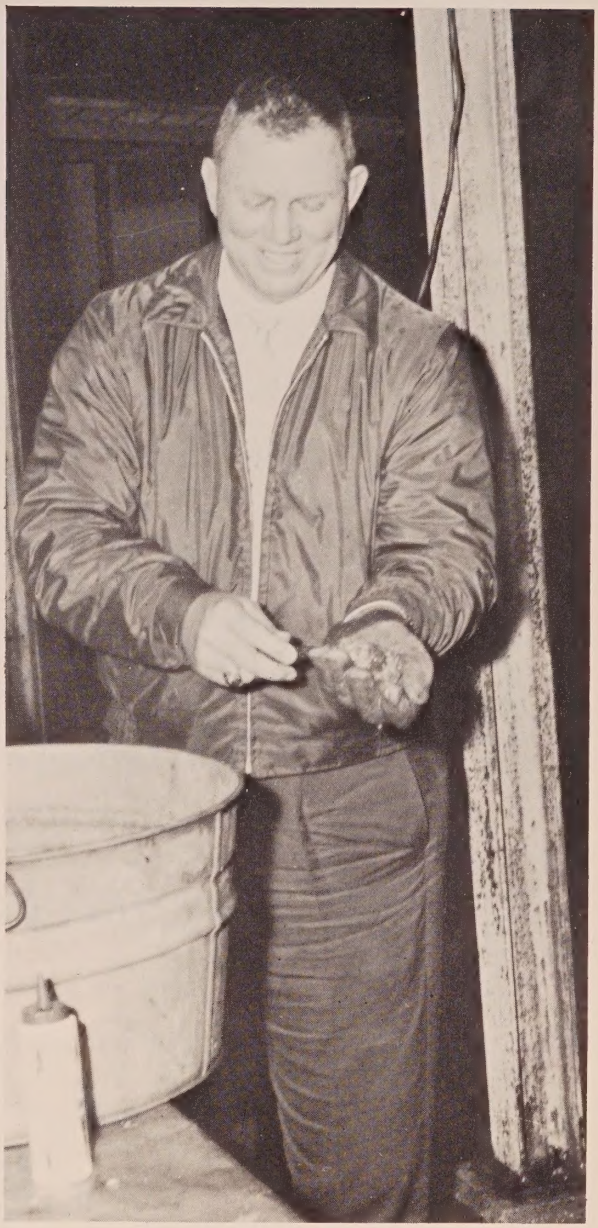
FACULTY

Principal

MR. SAM MITCHELL



Dear Students:

As I sit here trying to put into words my feelings for the students of Vernon School, I find that there are not enough pages in the "Jacket Buzz" to permit me to do this. This certainly has been a challenging year for me; the student body has responded in a tremendous way and I sincerely hope that each of you have received some things that have educational value that you might carry with you throughout life.

Being interested in people, I try to be aware of personalities and what goes into the development of each phase of life. The little events, as well as the important ones, make an imprint on each of us. You might even call me a "People Watcher", because I really endeavor to understand the changes that are taking place in the minds of those I meet. These changes are often reflected in the faces of men, and I am sure, as are you, that this year will mark upon your lives and to an extent change you in some way.

The world in which we are living will not let you rest upon your laurels, your hard earned honors; you may cherish them but you must go forward to meet the challenges of the day. You are on a threshold of a greater, more powerful world than many of us have ever dreamed, and the accomplishments and discoveries mount with each passing day. All these are designed to provide a greater need for you and your talents, and you must be ready.

Seniors, I would like to congratulate you upon your graduation and it is my sincere hope that each of you have many rich experiences throughout life.

Sincerely yours,
Sam Mitchell
